

THE STAR'S DAILY PICTORIAL PAGE

THE EVENING STAR, WASHINGTON, D. C., TUESDAY, MAY 16, 1922.

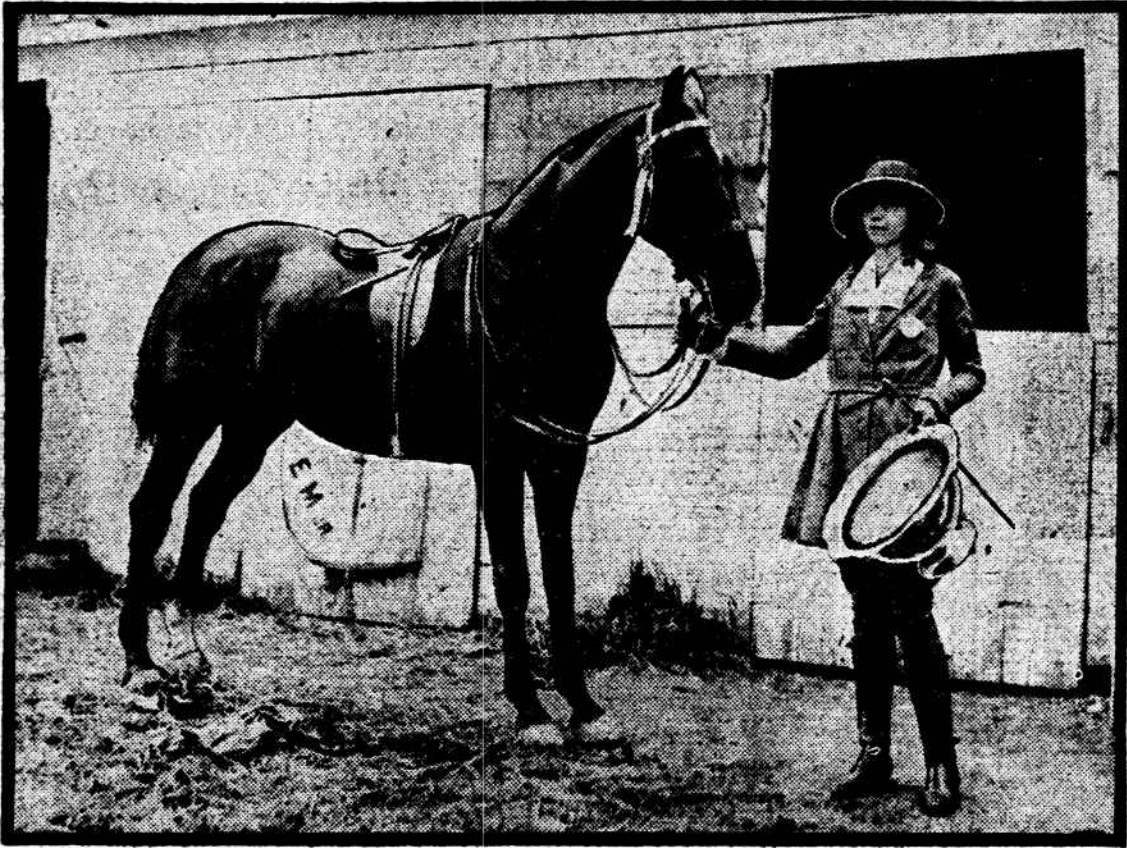

Secretary of State Hughes, Mrs. Hughes and their daughter, Miss Catherine, leaving the Pan-American building yesterday after the Secretary had formally opened the Chile-Peru conference. National Photo.

Two of the principal characters of the Oberammergau "Passion Play" now going on. This dramatic portrayal of the life of Christ is brought about by the excellent acting of the Bavarian peasants. At left: Martha Veit, as Mary, mother of Jesus. At right: Anton Lang, as Christ, with his cross and crown of thorns. He has played this part in three different productions of the spectacle. Photos by Wide World.

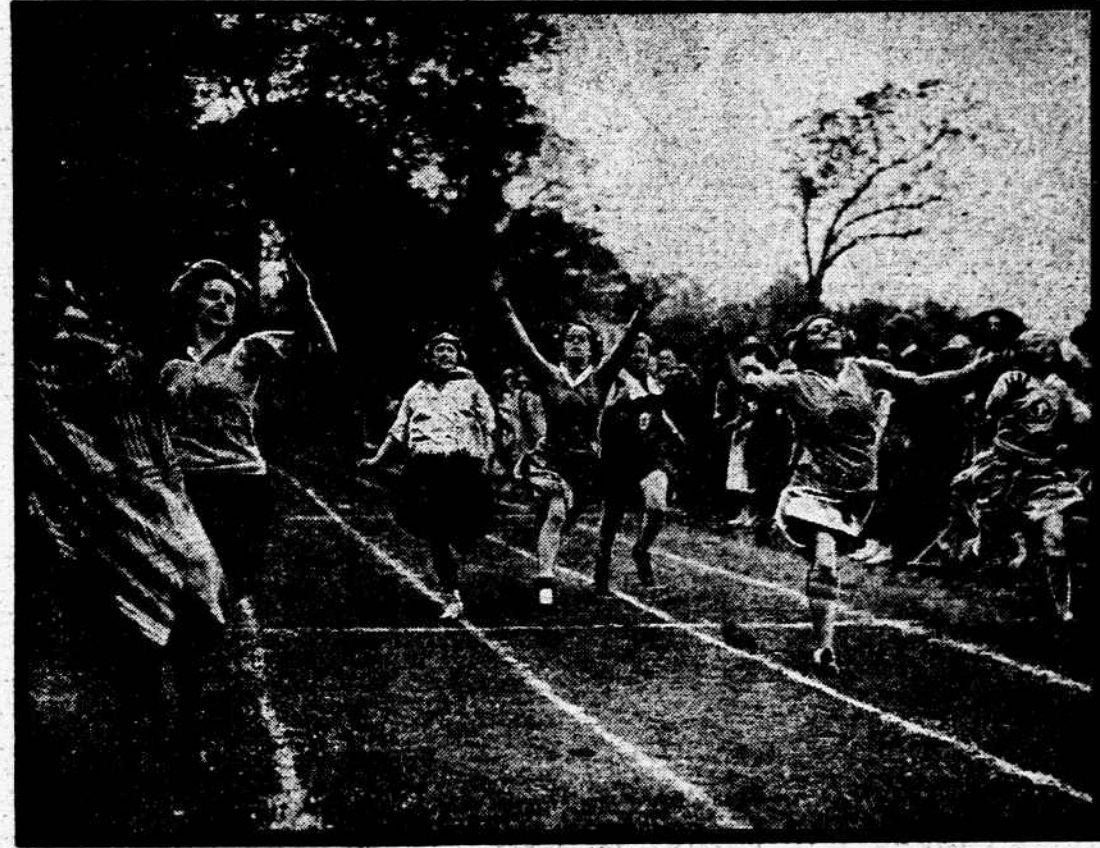

Secretary of War Weeks and Surgeon General Ireland were two interested spectators at the National Capital horse show yesterday afternoon, occupying one of the boxes. National Photo.

Miss Lillian Sander, daughter of Mrs. Will Cary Sander, won a cup at the horse show yesterday with her saddle horse, Black Beauty. Then she posed for the camera man with Black Beauty and the cup. National Photo.

Senor Carlos Aldunate, Chilean envoy to the Chile-Peru conference in Washington, and his two daughters, Cristina and Luce, photographed as they left the Pan-American building yesterday afternoon. National Photo.

A modern Atalanta, Miss Mabel Gilliland (left) of the Leonia, N. J., high school, winning the fifty-yard dash in six and two-fifths seconds at Mamaroneck, N. Y. The so-called "weaker sex" did some startling things to athletic records at this particular meet. Copyright by Keystone.

Mme. Sze, wife of the Chinese minister to Washington, photographed with Mrs. Ernest Locke at the National Capital horse show yesterday afternoon. National Photo.

T. J. Healey, trainer of the thoroughbred Pillory, winner of the classic Preakness at Pimlico last Saturday, and the cup which went to the victorious owner. And the cup is simply a prize added to the $51,000 purse. Copyright by Harris & Ewing.

Some of the participants in "Howdy, Honey," presented under the direction of Mrs. B. E. Clark at the Rockville, Md., Opera House on the evening of May 20. The show will be a home talent event, but the cast contains some real stars. Photo by Flew.

Mrs. Jerome Bonaparte of Washington and New York at the Nassau Kennel Club show, Belmont Park, L. I. Her wolfhound, Baba Yaga of Romanoff, was on exhibition. Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

Myron T. Herrick, United States ambassador to France (at left) attends the funeral of former President Deschanel in Paris. With Mr. Herrick are three other ambassadors, Count Sforza of Italy, M. Leon of Spain and M. Mayer of Germany. Copyright by Keystone.

Chimes which were installed this morning in Epiphany Church in honor of the late Dr. Randolph McKim. The photograph shows the bells ready to be drawn into place. National Photo.

Countess Szechenyi, formerly Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, snapped at the horse show. Count Szechenyi is the Hungarian minister to the United States. Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.